Music has the power to change and save lives. Students develop discipline through practice and study; acquire confidence from performances; develop their imagination doing improvisational activities, enhances character and develop sensitivity through the discussion and interpretation of music literature, as well as reinforce subjects, such as English, math, and history.

Students receive our “best” every lesson and are given the benefits of theory, “ear training”, and improvisational skills. In order to get the full benefits and rewards in music lessons, it requires dedication and commitment.

It is our pleasure to share our knowledge and experience with you. This can be an exciting journey for you!!!

Schedule/ Attendance

Music lessons: Monday through Thursday (We observe most holidays, such as Thanksgiving, Christmas and “Spring Break” holiday).

Attendance Policy: Please make an effort to attend all lessons. Also, missed lessons will still have to be paid for, unless an emergency occurs. Students who miss more than three lessons may lose their lesson slot. As a rule, there are No make-up lessons unless I cancel.

Because of the closeness of the lessons and enrollment of students, I will no longer be able to go past the schedules allotted time, except for preparation for special events.* (Parents should also arrange to pick up your child on time).

Students Expectations

I would like for every student to have an enjoyable experience and expect each student to be prepared for their lessons. Consistent practice and discipline are required to accomplish this.

*Parents of smaller children; please emphasize the importance of practicing. (I suggest twenty to thirty minutes a day). Also, younger children have shorter attention spans and tend to lose interest quickly and get distracted. They are still expected to pay attention and behave at their lessons.

Parents are invited to observe the first lesson so you will know what is expected of your child, see my teaching style, and feel comfortable with me teaching you child/ children. After the first observation, parents should NOT attend lessons because students usually perform better.

Parking

Please park in the parking areas provided. We have been granted permission to use Thunder's parking area ONLY for special occasions. WE do NOT want to abuse this priviledge.
